My dear Br Jensen

I am very sorry to learn that we shall not have the pleasure of seeing you till February next. Still it is better late than never. It is also a great happiness to know that yourself and family are in perfect health, in these perilous times. Remember me very kindly to them all

Many thanks for the Chapter which I have just received.

Yours always sincerely

My dear Sir,

your kind letter of the 20th ult. came in due time, but I postponed excusing its receipt till Mrs. L. should answer the one she was daily expecting to receive from you.

Hope defered seems to be my constant lot, but that is even better than Dante's "lasciati ogni speranza", and so long as a glimpse of it, however distant, lures on, I will not give up the illusion if it is to be one.

Hence I return you Mr. Barrett's card, that you may make use of it at its proper time.

I am afraid your too many occupations will seriously interfere with your going through my 3 volumes of ancient Novelistic lore, but should you accomplish the feat, I shall be curious to hear your candid opinions, and surely most happy if they can be turned to something substantial.

With my best regards to Mrs Fermeare, I remain,

Dear Sir,

Yours most truly

LESSEE & MANAGER, Mr WILSON BARRETT.

With
Wilson Barrett's
Compliments.

Dear Sir,
Mr Barrett regrets that until after the production of 'Hamlet' he cannot spare the time to read your play. If you will send it to him then he will do so. He desires me to return it by registered post as he would not like like the responsibility of keeping it so long.

Yours faithfully

C Bird
